All "judgments, " conclusions", and recommendations will be expressions of my opinion based upon my skill, my training, and my experience after a careful examination of the vessel and it's systems and after discussions with owners or others familiar with subject vessel. The survey report will be prepared after a thorough visual and hands on examination of the hull, machinery, rigging, hardware, systems, and equipment. The report will be submitted in "good faith", "without prejudice" and will constitute a description of the condition of the vessel at the time and date of survey. This surveyor shall have no liability for consequential damages, no liability for property loss damages, no liability for punitive damages, all of which shall be deemed to have been knowingly and voluntarily waved upon use of the subject survey report and work order signature.
